

Chapter VI

CONCLUSION

1. Processing waste from Kiwi which is a companion to healthy and tasty food. But also reducing the waste.
2. The sequence taken to complete the product is as follows: buying the materials, and clean it, Mise en place the ingredients, drying, grinding and smoothing process, and sterilizing process.
3. Packaging, fill the packaging so it ready to be package and distributed, if we produce excess stock, we can storage it for later in the storage room.
4. Kiwi Peel Powder will be a new processed waste product deriving from Kiwi (Kiwi Peel/Skin). It contains so many health benefit, nutrients and boasts a healthier alternative for non-dairy Powder.
5. Kiwi Peel Powder is expected to breach the market well. The target market will be expected to respond well with this new product since this product will open a new opportunities and ideas from the creative targets of the culinary world.

SUGESSTION

1. Maintain the quality of products and ingredients in the process of making Powder. The ingredients of this Powder is quite difficult to find because it only available in a certain seasons and quite expensive.
2. Consumers should be educated about this product since this is a new product for everyone
3. The price adjustment for the Powder sold quite difficult because it is quite expensive and new.