RECIPE BACKGROUND (50 – 100 WORDS)

Meat analogue is a substitute for all kinds of meat products that is available in the world, there are many kinds of meat analogue that is already made in the world, and one of them is jackfruit. the white color of meat inside the jackfruit can be eaten and especially the unripe has a neutral taste and has this shredded meat like texture. And Rendang as one of Indonesian cuisine usually uses meat with fibers, this is why I would like to make an analogue meat that can be used for Rendang dish as closely as possible in texture and taste so that people that couldn't eat meat whether it's because of their belief, health, or other reason can at least try and enjoy this cuisine.
