

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

4.1 Problem and Solution

At the beginning of the internship, the author found it very difficult to adjust to circumstances. where people work very quickly and efficiently, it took 2 months for the author to understand the correct and appropriate workflow. and also the author didn't think he would be looking after the buffet, because all he thought about was cooking in the kitchen. It's also something that makes you tired, after serving guests we have to cook in preparation for tomorrow. And also orders from staff and daily workers who sometimes interfere with the writer's performance.

Things that need to be considered here are maybe conducting briefings for the entire kitchen team so they can work according to their respective portions, and also helping each other when there are friends who haven't finished doing work so that everyone can go home on time and not too tired.

4.2 Benefit

1. Get New Relationship
 - Because we meet a lot of people and friends, who might be able to help us in the future.
2. Gain a lot of Knowledge
 - We get a lot of knowledge such the better cooking technique, new recipe and many more.
